I have tremendously improved my understanding of...

+

fragilty in a comprehensive manner

I improved my information on context analysis and actor mapping. Also, I got further information on the CSPM shared web tools which is available online fragility assessment / context analysis

fragility assessment and advantages of HRBA context analysis including roots of conflct different instruments to address contextual, programmatic and institutional risks

That we are not "slaves" of the tools but rather that the tools can be adapted to our needs

the stages of CSPM

conflict sensitivity

Fragility assessment tool

Concept of fragility, HRBA, conflict sensitivity

Fragility assessment

Instruments to analyze the context in fragile states

I don't feel fully knowledgable of or comfortable with...

+

how to fit in the tools to be "fit for fragility"

Fragility - it seems to be immensely broad in definition...or vague as such

how to conduct a fragility assessment (how to involve/engage partners in the analysis)

How to and what stages of the PCM shall we mainstream CSPM in our projects?

HRBA

applying the tools...

in what moment of the PCM to use the fragility assessment and CSPM tools --> EP or CP?

how to choose the right tools for context/fragility/conflict analysis

HRBA

HRBA

the links between CSPM and other risk management tools

Actors Mapping

4As

HRBA

I would like to specifically deepen my understanding of....

+

how to mainstream CSPM/HRBA across all our interventions to practice an example how to mainstream CSPM in a project. better to designe a ghost project and then mainsteam CSPM in it step by step

concrete (working) experiences of HRBA/CSPM

HRBA in authoritarian regimes

Use of CSPM and HRBA in the right moment of PCM

More case studies which show possible ways to use instruments like actors mapping / 4 As etc

HRBA and staying engaged

HRBA in authoritarian regimes

What level of understanding of HR law is needed to apply the HRBA in practice

Operationalization of HRBA

I am fine with CSPM. However, I wish to receive more practical info on HRBA.

HRBA and how to measure our success in implementing it practical and operational application of CSPM and HRBA