The Swiss dual track vocational and professional education and training system has an excellent reputation throughout the world due to its high quality, practise related and an excellent permeability. It is jointly responsible for the strong economic performance of the Swiss industry and lower youth unemployment.

This book delineates the Swiss dual track vocational and professional education and training systems coherently and compares with the European educational systems. Besides describing the success factors of this dual track educational system practical examples are illustrated from all over the world to elucidate the possibilities to transfer it in other countries.

This book is written for the interested English speaking foreign delegates, executives and professionals in the field of education, skill development and entrepreneurship.

With a foreword of Federal Councilor Johann N. Schneider-Ammann, Minister of Economics, Education and Research.
