

Shareweb

Poverty Wellbeing

Newsletter | July 2015

The Shareweb

We are glad to announce the launching of the revamped Poverty-Wellbeing platform, after its migration to the shareweb. In this new phase of the Poverty-Wellbeing, we are also pleased to announce that both HELVETAS Swiss Intercooperation and the Institute for Development Studies (IDS) have joined efforts and will both feed the shareweb with powerful resources. Stay tuned!

Recommended

Impact Hypothesis: What is it and how to apply it?

[The 3 key message to eradicate poverty \[video\]](#)

Beneficiary Assessment revised: Where does it fit?

The South Asia Women's Resilience Index

Article by Eveline Studner

All over the world statistics and experience indicate that women are more adversely affected by disaster events than men. The recently published (2014) South Asia women's resilience index (WRI) aims at measuring the capacities to withstand and recover from disasters in a gender sensitive manner. Read more »

Roma Social Inclusion Regional Seminar

Jo Howard from IDS was with SDC colleagues in Bucharest from 26-30 April to co-facilitate a workshop on Roma Inclusion in Eastern Europe. Read more »

Home | About | Addressing Poverty in Practice | Current Poverty Issues | Poverty, Politics & Power | Resources

This newsletter has been sent to you as member of the SDC Poverty-Wellbeing shareweb. The Shareweb is created by the SDC Quality Assurance Poverty focal point, and managed by HELVETAS Swiss Intercooperation in collaboration with IDS. For technical support or to unsubscribe, please contact poverty-wellbeing@helvetas.org. To visit the network Shareweb, please click here.